"Democracy has never yet committed the grave error of placing itself in antagonism to law, although instances have been numerous, where its opponents, when in temporary possession of the legislative power, have passed enactments only for partisan purposes."

We are not quite sure whether we found the above extract in the editorial columns of the N. Y. Daily News, or the Washington Union—but it was one of them—and as they both modestly style themselves "democratic" journals, and as they are alike hostile to everything that we have been accustomed to regard as truly and essentially democratic, the passage would do, without material variation, for either.

And now, as to the truth of the statement above quoted—"Democracy," says the writer, "has never yet committed the grave error of placing itself in antagonism to law." Indeed! It might be interesting to know what the writer means by the terms "democracy" and "law." If he means something wholly different from what is commonly understood by those words, he owes it to himself and to the public to explain his meaning; but if he uses language in its ordinary sense, we must take the liberty of telling him that we think he is "lying like Sam Hill," as they say down in Podunk.

For we should like to know if Mr. Mayor Wood, of New York, and the "gentlemen of property and standing," who have sided with him in the late existing Police and Charter controversy in that city, are not proper and orthodox exponents of the sort of "democracy" which the N. Y. News and The Union profess to believe in? And will either of those hopeful journals pretend that the Wood party have not "committed the grave error" of placing themselves in "antagonism to the law?"

Pray what has been the trouble in that city, except the notorious fact, that the Democratic Mayor aforesaid and his political coadjutors have wholly and stubbornly refused to comply with the requirements of a regularly enacted law of the Empire State? Have they not so refused? Come now, Mr. N. Y. News, let us see if you have the hardihood to deny it!

The "grave error," then, referred to in the passage above quoted, and which it is alleged "Democracy has never yet committed," has been committed, and with no small degree of aggravation, by the Democratic chief magistrate of the largest city in America. Nay, it was being committed at the very time when the writer we have quoted was penning his mendacious article; and, since the events in New York have been noised all over the land, we think it not uncharitable to say the writer of that article doubtless knew he was deliberately misrepresenting the truth, when he wrote it.

Now what is the use of that kind of lying, of which the extract we have given, is a specimen? Who is so flat and stupid, as to be misled by it? And what a superlative goosehead a man must be, who can find no better business!

THE FRUIT CROP.—Several of the New York fruiters who have extensive correspondence with growers of fruit in different parts of the country, says the Journal, agree that the prospects, particularly as regards the apple crop, were never more promising. In that State and at the West, the trees are in excellent condition, but it is still too early to calculate with any certainty on the extent of the next harvest. A year ago, the young fruit set very well, but the protracted drought which ensued, dispelled the flattering prospect. Reports respecting the peach crop are equally favorable.

THE FATAL CATASTROPHE AT A THEATRE.—An Italian correspondent of the London Times gives a few additional details of the tragedy of a Leghorn theatre on the 7th of June.

A terrible catastrophe occurred at Leghorn on the 7th. Upwards of 3000 persons were assembled in the Theatre degli Aquilotti to witness the representation of the taking of Sebastopol, when suddenly one of the rockets set fire to the balcony, and the fire spread to the side scenes. A sudden panic seized the public, the people in the pit rushed to the doors, and many of those who were in the boxes and galleries attempted to save themselves by jumping into the pit. The Carabinieri vainly attempted to stem the current by assuring the people that there was plenty of time for all to go out quietly; and many, being frightened out of their senses, threw themselves out of the windows, although the British Consul, Mr. Macbean, had caused ladders to be placed at some of them. This disaster is the more to be regretted as there was really no occasion for such a panic, the fire being got under almost immediately afterwards, before it had time to spread. The Montre Tossano states that 43 persons were killed and 131 wounded. On hearing what had occurred the Grand Duke immediately set out for Leghorn, and visited those who had been carried to the hospitals.

A STRAWBERRY FARM.—Mr. John C. Scott, of Brighton, is one of the largest and most successful growers in the vicinity of Boston. His beds of the plant are eleven acres in extent, from which he will raise about twelve thousand boxes of the fruit this season. Last year his farm produced over ten thousand boxes of strawberries. Mr. Scott raises three varieties, viz: the "Brighton Pine," the "Scott Seedling," and "Morey Seedling."

LOCAL NEWS.

Truthfulness.

The whole or chief duty of instructors of children in ancient Persia, consisted in teaching their pupils to speak the truth. It should be a fundamental duty of teachers of the present day. Children should be taught from early infancy to speak the truth on all occasions, not in word only, but in their every act and thought. Heaven manifested all deceit is lying, whether it is hidden under the disguise of words spoken by the tongue, or by other signs. Truth itself spoken with the intention to deceive is the worst species of falsehood. Nay, further, if in our intercourse with others we permit a fellow creature to deceive himself to his injury, a lie is thereby implanted in our heart. It is ever likewise a noble nature to keep what is called a secret. The tongue should never move but to express the thought of the heart. But, alas, how often is it used to disguise that thought. Nearly all the business of the world is conducted through a ramifying system of deception and lying.

Our social intercourse, especially in what is called "good society" is little else but a bundle of lies—a system perfected for the purpose of hiding realities from each other.

Both nature and revelation teaches that God looks at the heart of man, and knows its every thought as quickly as it is conceived. There He sits in judgment. It is the intent—the true and living intent, that receives the reward, whether for good or evil.

It is a startling doctrine of modern spiritualism, that disembodied spirits look not only directly into the minds of each other, but into those of mortals. If as it is said every human being is attended by spirits who comprehend the thoughts of the heart as plainly as we understand the words of the tongue, what blushes and confusion of face, would be experienced by many of us, who pass for paragons of virtue and truthfulness, could we behold their gaze.

Our Book Table.

Leonard Scott & Co.'s re-publication of Blackwood's Magazine for June brings once again to our minds those palmy days for literature, when Christopher North enriched the pages of Maga with his eloquent and harmonious thoughts. The present number of this periodical will prove peculiarly acceptable. Beside a continuation of "Mr. Gilfil's Love Story," the conclusion of "The Athelings," and several valuable essays, we notice with great pleasure the first chapters of a fresh novel by Bulwer. This last will be read by every one, for the sake of its author long since went abroad, and his works are among the noblest of the English pen. For sale at Tiley's.

"The Intermediate Geography" is the second volume of a new series of geographical works, by S. S. Cornell. Improvement as well as novelty of system, is claimed for the work. The book beside us seems well adapted for pupils who have acquired the simplest elements of geographical knowledge. For sale by A. J. Ward No. 131 Thames street.

A prospectus of the "United States Agricultural Society" informs us that the fifth National Exhibition of that Institution is to be held at Louisville, Ky., in the month of September, from the 1st to the 30th, inclusive. Inducements to the amount of $12,000 in premiums are offered to those whose tastes incline them to attend the celebration.

"The Philosophy and claims of Homeopathy," by C. L. Spencer, M. D. This lecture gives a lucid exposition of a system of medical practice which is favorably regarded in all parts of the country. A fair notion of the claims of Homeopathy to general attention may be gathered from this pamphlet.

The July number of the "Ladies Wreath" has found its way to our table. This little magazine has assumed an appropriate name, and we are confident has already become a general favorite.

The R. L. Convocation will meet at Portsmouth, on this Island, on the 16th inst. Bishop Clark is expected to preside.

DEATH FROM A SINGULAR CAUSE.—Mr. C. G. Cooley, whom we spoke of in our issue yesterday as being at the point of death from the effects of having a tooth extracted at his residence No. 49 John street, yesterday, at 5 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Cooley was a contractor in Col. Colt's Pistol Factory where he had been engaged for several years. His age was 27 years. Some three weeks since he applied to a dentist who extracted for him an eye-tooth from which he was suffering much pain. The tooth was properly extracted and nothing remarkable occurred at the time, but soon after the operation was performed Mr. Cooley's jaw and face began to swell and to pain him severely. His face continued to swell until the inflammation had extended to his head and throat, when his nervous system became so much affected, that delirium set in and continued, with slight intermissions, up to the time of his death. All the remedies prescribed to reduce the inflammation and remove the delirium proved ineffectual. He could take no food or nourishment of any amount for several days previous to his death, and sank away gradually from mere physical exhaustion, until within some forty-eight hours previous to his death, when mortification took place, commencing in the affected portion of the jaw and extending to his throat; and thus he ended his sufferings. The physicians who attended him, we understand, have remarked that they never before during their extended practice met with a precisely similar case, nor one that so completely baffled their skill.

GENERAL NEWS.

AN ELOPEMENT SCENE.—A youthful couple—a young man, and a lass of fifteen summers—at Amboy, Illinois, who longed to wear the stolen bonds of matrimony, were opposed in their wish by the maternal "parent" of the young lady. Determined to be made happy, the two lovers restored to the Illinois Central Railroad as the means of helping them out of their trouble, by transporting them beyond the interference of the obdurate mother. But the mother had seen too many of love's capers to be thus foiled, and when the runaways were seated in the cars, what was their surprise to find that "Ma" had taken passage on the same train. A "scene" of course followed. Ma endeavored to persuade her rebellious daughter to leave the youth who had inveigled her away, but all to no purpose. Then "main strength and awkwardness" were brought to bear; but the loving couple were bound together by that inseparable cord—love—and two large muscular arms and two round plump arms. At all events the lovers were so strongly attached (that the united strength of the old lady and several passengers could not separate them. After giving her daughter several severe slaps in the face, head, back, etc., the mother quieted herself until their arrival at La Salle, when the couple were taken in charge by several officers of the police—and that is all the Dixon Telegraph knows about the matter.

SINGULAR EFFECTS OF ELECTRICITY.—A singular occurrence, took place, a short time since at the Locomotive Works, illustrating the powerful effects of electricity.—A locomotive was being moved from the manufactory to the Central depot, and had arrived in the middle of the street, when suddenly all hands dropped the bars with which they were moving the machine, and fell back in amazement. Resuming them at the order of the man in charge, they applied them again to the wheels, and again fell back paralyzed, the instant they touched the iron. The director of the job caught up one of the bars, and making a savage thrust planted it under a wheel, preparatory to giving a huge lift. No sooner had it touched, however, than he saw it fall from his grasp to the ground, as it had done in every case before. Such singular occurrences excited attention, and an examination was made to the cause, when it was found that the locomotive in passing under the telegraph line, had come in contact with a broken wire hung sufficiently low to reach it.—The whole mass of iron composing the electricity, which had communicated itself to the bars that the men held in their hands, and caused the effects above described. The wire was then removed, and the difficulty obviated in a moment.—Detroit Free Press.

TREASURE EXCITEMENT.—The Delaware Reporter says that a large quantity of Spanish silver coin has been found under and about the wreck of a vessel on Phoenix island, Maryland, just below the southeastern part of Delaware. The wreck is said to be that of a Dutch Galleon which was lost about fifty years since, having on board one million of dollars in silver. The excitement among the natives is said to be great. Crops are left untended, shops and stores are closed, and thousands of persons are on the beach, raking for silver. Some rake up as much as twenty dollars a day; others not more than two or three dollars. The silver is already in circulation in Sussex county.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—A merchant of Albany made the acquaintance of Miss Thomas, of Warren Co., N. Y., last summer. The acquaintance ripened into a proposal of marriage, which the lady accepted, and made arrangements for the wedding.—The wedding was to have taken place on the 20th of May, at the residence of the young lady's parents. The day arrived, but the bridegroom didn't. The lady at first went into convulsions and refused to be comforted, but the next day she took a more common-sense view of the matter and resolved to "make him pay up" for his heartlessness. Consequently a suit for $5000 damages is pending.

A WOMAN'S ALMANAC.—Alphonse Kar alleges that epochs in a woman's life are frequently marked by dress. Women will, for instance, often say that such a thing happened when they bought a particular article of costume, thus: "I recollect perfectly well when Mrs. Jones took her third husband; Charles gave me my ermine tip-top at that time. Mrs. Williams was baptised and confirmed just one year ago last January, for I bought my blue velvet dress that month. Old Mrs. Pope died last Wednesday six months, for I got my camellia hair shawl on the day of the funeral."

TO ASCERTAIN WHEN IT'S NOON.—Watch the paralysis which seizes on men who work by the day. Twelve o'clock strikes them as powerless as a blow from a meat axe. We witnessed a Milesian, yesterday, ascending a ladder with a hod full of bricks. Just as he reached the top, when the State House clock told him that "time was up," what does the reader suppose he did? "Stepped upon the platform perhaps and dumped the oblongs?" Not a bit of it! He just let go the hod and tumbled them all back upon the sidewalk. He wouldn't have moved a peg forward if all Philadelphia had depended upon it.—Philadelphia Gazette.

On Tuesday last, no less than seven tons of salmon passed over the Grand Trunk Railway, from Quebec to Portland, and thence by steambat to Boston. It not unfrequently happens that salmon leaves Quebec at 7 o'clock in the morning, and is found on the breakfast tables of the hotels in Boston at 7 o'clock the next morning—thus being transported a distance of nearly five hundred miles in about twenty hours.

Barnum intends to reside permanently in England, and his wife and family sailed in the Canada on Wednesday to join him.—With regard to his difficulties, the Bridgeport Farmer says:

It would have been far better for his creditors if they had accepted his first proposal, and given him a chance to retrieve his last fortune. There is no use of exposing a man when he is unlucky, and endeavoring to force him to do more than he is able.

A young fellow eating some cheese full of shippers, at a tavern one night exclaimed: "Now I have done as much as Sampson, for I have slain my thousands and tens of thousands." "Yes," returned the jaw, "and with the same weapon—the jaw bone of an ass."

A CONJUGAL TRIAL.—At Zurich, in former times, it was the custom, when a married couple applied for a divorce on account of incompatibility of temper, for the magistrate to shut up the pair for a fortnight in an isolated tower on the lake. Not only were they condemned to a common room, but they were supplied with only one bed, one chair, one knife and one fork, so that their comfort depended entirely on mutual complaisance. If after the expiration of the fortnight, they persisted in their resolution, the tribunal ordered a serious examination of the case, and, if possible, the divorce. But in general the quarrelsome pair did not wait for the end of the trial to which they were subjected to become reconciled, and would request to be released.—Galignani's Messenger.

THE CHANGE IN THE TARIFF.—Wednesday, July 1st, the new Tariff, which increases the number of articles upon the free list while it reduces the duty upon numerous other articles, went into operation. At the Boston Custom House a very large business was transacted. At one desk there were two hundred and seventy entries, where, usually, the daily average is not over forty. The amount of cash received upon the large amount of goods entered, did not exceed $80,000, which is not an unusually large sum. It is stated that goods, which, under the old tariff would have paid duties to the amount of upwards of $30,000, were entered Wednesday under the new regime, free of duty.

SINGULAR CASE.—Mr. B. C. Saunders of Orland, had a hen which was suffering as he supposed, from a tumor in her side, as she increased in size till she could hardly get about. He killed her, and took from her sixteen eggs weighing two and one half pounds, and eighteen smaller ones, about the size of a robin's egg. She would go on to her nest every day, and cackle when she came off, as if she had laid, yet leaving no egg behind her. This is a singular case, the like of which we do not remember of reading or hearing of.—Maine Farmer.

SAGACITY OF A DOG.—Old Rolla, a well known hound of Montgomery, Alabama, a few days since fell into a well, forty feet deep, in which he showed very little sagacity; but he made up for it in getting out.—A rope being let down to him, he seized the end in his teeth, and was thus—only, however, on the second trial—hauled safely forty feet out of the well.—New Orleans Picayune.

A MAN STUNG TO DEATH BY BEES.—We learn that a farmer named Hayes, residing near Knoxville, in Frederick county, Md., while about to hive a swarm of bees, a great portion of them swarmed up on his head, and stung him in such a terrible manner that he died on the following day.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

A queer cow case was recently decided in Mt. Vernon, Ohio, which occupied the court five days, employed four lawyers, and cost more like a hundred witnesses. The plaintiff furnished his claim to the cow by some eighteen witnesses who swore positively to her identity. But the defendant had twenty witnesses, who swore point blank to the contrary, and he got the case.

A cane and spy glass, which once belonged to Washington, are for sale at Baltimore. The Patriot suggests that the cane be purchased by the "Mount Vernon Association," and presented as a mark of esteem to Hon. Edward Everett, whose recent efforts and great lecture on Washington have done so much towards the preservation of Mount Vernon.

"Balm of a Thousand Flowers"—A CONTEMPORARY.—A person pretending to have a partner with Dr. Pettigrew in the above article is publishing off a spurious preparation on the public. All are cautioned unless the name of PETTIGREW & CO., is written on the side, and W. P. PETTIGREW & CO., printed on the front of the label. The genuine article is for sale by all respectable Druggists, who frown down counterfeits and impostors.

REPORTED MASSACRE OF TROOPS BY INDIANS.—FROM SALT LAKE.

St. Louis, July 7.—The St. Joseph's Journal of the 2d, publishes a report brought by a French trader, that 100 troops and 50 teamsters, under Col. Sumner, were attacked by a large body of Cheyennes and Apache Indians, 200 miles west of Fort Kearney, and all slain. The report is confirmed by a trader who arrived at Pacific City, Iowa, on the 2d, and also by the emigrant train from Salt Lake.

The Salt Lake mail has arrived here with Independence dates of the 30th ult. There were few Indians on the route. The emigrant trains were doing well. Snow had disappeared, and grass and water on the Plains were abundant. The Mormons, who have been very anxious to know the character of the reports made by the returned officials, were surprised to hear that bills respecting polygamy were to be placed before Congress. They treat Surveyor Burr's report with contempt, and accuse him of making false statements regarding the country.

THE PERSIA.

New York, July 7. The steamship Persia's mails close this evening at 7 o'clock. She will sail at 8 a. m.

New York, July 7.—Barque Panthalia arrived here to-day, in charge of a British officer and crew, from the River Congo, where she was seized as a slaver by the English brig of war Sappho.

ALPINE HAIR BALM.

Restoring Gray Hair to its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the skin. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the Hair, which passes through the Hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair, and keep it from falling off, composed of Oil, Alcohol and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor was induced to experiment until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. It is soothing and emollient, always all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching, it cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color, be it Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling off, as will be seen by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear.

Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been colored for a week, you will find it towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the Hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root.

When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow, and it becomes gray. To prevent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm, will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.
